

Curriculum

History was getting down the anecdotes. Lit, half digesting heavy meals.

Sociology, running linguistic marathons on circular courses.

Psychology, eyeing self midst low pathologies. Economics, auditing fierce debates between bullshit and horseshit.

Political Science, excusing apparent omissions to the penal code.

Religious Studies? Fairyland without the fairies. Thus was I educated, became professor to retain the easily understood game.